The quality of your vision depends on the quality of your lenses.

It happens gradually. Little by little, it gets harder to read, work at the computer, or play sports. That's because over time, the focus in our eyes weakens, causing most of us to need glasses.

When people purchase new glasses, they tend to spend most of their time choosing their frames, when it's the lenses inside their frames that provide the vision they need. It's essential to choose them just as carefully as you do your frames.

With VARILUX® lenses, every distance matters.

Only VARILUX progressive lenses are designed to restore sharper focus and smooth transitions from one field of vision to another. Wherever you look you get vision so natural, it's as if the lens and the eye are working as one.

Remember, you have a choice in progressive lenses. Ask about VARILUX lenses, the brand most recommended around the world.
